SUPREME BASILEUS' GREETING

CHARLOTTE M. WILLIAMS

2013 - 2017

Dear Sorors and Affiliates,

It is with distinct pride and honor that I invite you to the 94th Anniversary Conclave of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc., July 15 – 20, 2017, in Historic Little Rock, Arkansas. This biennial conference promises to be one of intellectual and sororal enlightenment. Our deliberations are designed to meet our needs as members of an organization of professional women in the field of education as well as members of a sisterhood dedicated to promoting that field. Our theme – “Embracing the Standards, Raising the Bar: Narratives of Bravery and Hope: Perspectives from African American Teachers”, will be reflected in the professional development sessions, workshops and cultural and social events throughout the conference.

The Conclave Coordinators, Gamma Nu Chapter and I have been busy over the last year in our quest to make this experience one that will fulfill your professional, sororal, social and spiritual needs. Our goal is to ensure that you leave Little Rock, Arkansas, The Natural State, prepared to meet the challenges of our educational arena, be equipped face to the quagmire of expectations world puts upon us as professional women, whether in service or retired and be uplifted through the spirit of sisterhood.

Gamma Nu Chapter is held in high esteem in this community. They are rolling out the red carpet, stepping up and stepping out to ensure that your experience is one to remember. You, your guests, children and grandchildren will have an opportunity to experience the rich arts and culture of this southern city, teeming with rich history.

Situated on the Arkansas River, Little Rock is home to a thriving New South culture that offers a vibrant nightlife, big-time entertainment, world-class attractions and a booming dining scene with the best Arkansas restaurants serving up dishes from all over the globe. The fact that we're one of the top Arkansas vacation spots and among America's most affordable cities means you can have fun and keep your money in your pocket. Little Rock has a big role in history and looks to the future. Learn about Central High School's place in the civil rights movement, explore the Clinton Presidential Center and imagine a world free of hunger and poverty at the Heifer Village. If you're the outdoorsy type, lace up your running shoes or hop on a bicycle and cruise the Arkansas River Trail – it features more than 15 miles of scenic riverfront and one of the longest pedestrian and bicycle bridges in America. Come visit one of the most popular Arkansas vacation spots and see what Little Rock is all about. You'll leave with a new idea of what a southern city can do.

This is truly our time in history, be a part of the forward movement of this great organization. Bring a soror or two and bring your family and friends. Bring your business cards and share your contact and social media information. Come prepared to enjoy new experiences and meet new faces. Encourage your line sisters and chapter members to join you for a week of networking, professional development, educational and fashion vendors, health information and so much more, all designed to enhance your experience as an educator and a soror of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc.

Please REGISTER ONLINE at <https://nspdk-conclave.ecwid.com> or complete the Registration Forms and submit them to National Headquarters. I look forward to seeing you at your Regional Conferences and humbly anticipate your arrival Little Rock.

NATIONAL COORDINATORS' GREETING

DR. BONITA DURRAH
GWENDOLYN LAVON BRATTON WATTS

Greetings, Distinguished National and Regional Officers, Delegates, Sorors, Affiliates, Family and Friends,

It is indeed a pleasure to welcome each of you to the Ninety-Fourth Anniversary Conclaves of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Incorporated. On behalf of the world's greatest Educational Organization, we are delighted to extend to each of you a very warm, "Hello," and to say how grateful we are to have you join us in the beautiful historical city of Little Rock, Arkansas, a city filled with Southern Charm and bustling with visual identity of the African-American Civil Rights Movement. We are sure that your conference experience will be empowering and engaging.

As we embark upon our 94th Anniversary Conclave, our theme, "Embracing the Standards, Raising the Bar: Narratives of Bravery and Hope", reflects the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Incorporated standards and ideals of excellence for professional women in the field of education. Workshop topics, forums and programs will address issues facing today's educational arena and educators, as we strengthen our sororal commitment, dedication and service to the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc.

You will absolutely marvel at the remarkable tours, shopping trips, museums and visit to the infamous Central High School along with an entree of fun activities planned for you, your family and friends. The city of Little Rock is immersed with fabulous restaurants that are sure to live up to the great taste of southern cuisine.

Congratulations to our sister, Supreme Basileus Charlotte M. Williams, as she ends her tenure and undeniable legacy of service to the mighty NSPDK. Be sure to bring your business attire and party outfits; we assure you, it will be a "Red and Gold Explosion", as we Rock you in Little Rock. Be there, to pay homage to our beloved Founders and experience the joy of true sisterhood. It is our sincere prayer that you be blessed and depart, knowledgeable, inspired and ready to serve.

HOST CHAPTER'S GREETING

GAMMA NU CHAPTER DEBORAH BLED SOE, BASILEUS

Greetings Sorors,

It is my distinguish honor to welcome you to the 94th Anniversary Conclave in Little Rock, Arkansas. To our Supreme Basileus Charlotte M. Williams, Past Supreme Basilei, Members of the Executive Council, Chapter Basilei, Sorors, Anthropolos, family members, friends, affiliates and guests, thank you for accepting our invitation to come to Little Rock. We told you in Winston-Salem that we would "Rock you in Little Rock" and we plan to do just that.

Gamma Nu Chapter is honored to have this awesome opportunity to be of any service that we can to make your visit here in Little Rock as memorable as possible.

We want you to feel like family in our city. We have been expecting and planning for your arrival for many months and we plan to provide you with Arkansas hospitality. There is so much to see and do when you are not in the Plenaries or Professional development meetings.

As educators devoted to our organization's mission, "To Foster A Spirit of Sisterhood Among Teachers and to Promote the Highest Ideals of the Teaching Profession", Gamma Nu hopes that this 94th Anniversary Conclave will provide you with energy to help you continue the spirit of teaching our children.

GAMMA NU IS A SMALL CHAPTER, BUT WE HAVE BIG HEARTS TO SERVE YOU

GAMMA NU CHAPTER

LOCAL CONCLAVE COORDINATORS' GREETING GAMMA NU CHAPTER

Sorors,

What an honor and privilege to greet you, National sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc. to the State of Arkansas in the capital city of Little Rock. We are excited and delighted that educators have chosen to celebrate the 94th anniversary Conclave here in the very city and State that caused a History making revolution in the course of this nation's education almost 60 years ago! We invite you to visit the Historical Little Rock Central High School and the Arkansas State Capitol with the Statues of the Bold "Little Rock Nine."

Little Rock and Arkansas is high on Minority Education. This is evidenced by the Historical Black Colleges and Universities located here. The University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff, which also has a branch here in North Little Rock, Philander Smith College, Arkansas Baptist College and Shorter College have produced many of the top educators in this nation and world.

We are confident that your visit here will enhance the State's awareness of NSPDK, INC. and our impact on national and international education. We also expect that the Sorority will impress on the state that it is through their education and trust in God that each state will elevate standards of living for all people.

In preparation of your coming here we are overjoyed to think of your joyful experience of the beautiful scenery and all that there is to enjoy here. We want you to feel this is the best Conclave ever! Every workshop and activity has been planned with diligence so that all will benefit greatly and will be comfortable and carefree! We hope that each chapter will return to your area and community with renewed determination to improve education through the work of the Sorority.

Y'all come back now!

Shirley Thomas, Conclave Local Coordinator

LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

Little Rock is the capital and the most populous city of the U.S. State of Arkansas. It is also the county seat of Pulaski County. It was incorporated on November 7, 1831. The city derives its name from a rock formation along the river, named "le petit rocher" by the French in the 1720s.

Little Rock is a cultural, economic, government, and transportation center within Arkansas and the South. Several cultural institutions are located in Little Rock, such as the Arkansas Arts Center, the Arkansas Repertory Theatre, and the Arkansas Symphony Orchestra, in addition to the hiking, boating, and other outdoor recreational opportunities. Little Rock's history is available through history museums, historic districts or neighborhoods like the Quapaw Quarter, and historic sites such as Little Rock Central High School. The city is the headquarters of Dillard's, Windstream Communications, Acxiom, Stephens Inc., University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences, Heifer International, the Clinton Foundation, and the Rose Law Firm.

Little Rock is home to two universities that are part of the University of Arkansas System: the campuses of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock and the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences are located in the city. Two historically black colleges, Philander Smith College, affiliated with the United Methodist Church, and Arkansas Baptist College, are also located in Little Rock. Located in downtown is the Clinton School of Public Service, a branch of the University of Arkansas System, which offers master's degrees in public service.

Built in 1927 at a cost of $1.5 million, Little Rock Senior High School, now Little Rock Central High School (LRCHS), was designed in the Gothic Revival style; it was hailed as the most expensive, most beautiful, and largest high school in the nation. Statues of four figures over the front entrance represent ambition, personality, opportunity, and preparation.

At the time in Arkansas and other states across the South, public school educational facilities were legally racially segregated. In 1954 the US Supreme Court ruled in Brown v. Board of Education that such segregation in public schools was unconstitutional, and encouraged the states to integrate their schools. Related historic events in the 1950s changed education at Central High School and throughout the United States. LRCHS was the focal point of the Little Rock Integration Crisis of 1957.[Nine Black students, known as the Little Rock Nine, were denied entrance to the school in defiance of the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court ruling ordering integration of public schools.[7]

In 1957, with the encouragement of Mrs. Daisy Bates, the NAACP registered nine black students to attend the previously all-white Little Rock Central High, selected on the criteria of excellent grades and attendance. Called the "Little Rock Nine", they were Ernest Green, Elizabeth Eckford, Jefferson Thomas, Terrence Roberts, Carlotta Walls LaNier, Minnijean Brown, Gloria Ray Karlmark, Thelma Mothershed, and Melba Pattillo Beals. Ernest Green was the first African American to graduate from Central High. On the morning of September 23, 1957, the nine Black high school students faced an angry mob of over 1,000 Whites in front of Central High School who were protesting the integration project. As the students were escorted inside by the Little Rock police, violence escalated, and they were removed from the school. The next day, President Dwight D. Eisenhower ordered the 1,200-man 327th Airborne Battle Group of the U.S. Army's 101st Airborne Division from Fort Campbell, Kentucky, to escort the nine students into the school. As Melba Pattillo Beals, one of the nine students, wrote in her diary, "After three full days inside Central [High School], I know that integration is a much bigger word than I thought."

On November 6, 1998, Congress established Little Rock Central High School National Historic Site. The National Historic Site is administered in partnership with the National Park Service, Little Rock Public Schools, the City of Little Rock, and others. The Visitor Center for the site is located diagonally across the street from the school. Opposite the Visitor Center to the west is the Central High Commemorative Garden, which features nine trees and benches that honor the students. Arches that represent the school's facade contain embedded photographs of the school in years since the crisis, and showcase students of various backgrounds in activities together.

In 2007, Central High School held an event for the 50th Anniversary of the Little Rock Nine entering Central. On September 24, 2007, a new museum was opened honoring the Little Rock Nine. That same year, HBO produced a documentary film directed by the Renaud Brothers, Little Rock Central: 50 Years Later, which explored the significant changes and continuities within the school since its desegregation.

The William J. Clinton Presidential Center and Park is the presidential library of Bill Clinton, the 42nd President of the United States (1993–2001). It is located in Little Rock, Arkansas and includes the Clinton Presidential Library, the offices of the Clinton Foundation, and the University of Arkansas Clinton School of Public Service. It is the thirteenth presidential library to have been completed in the United States, the eleventh to be operated by the National Archives and Records Administration,[1] [2] and the third to comply with the Presidential Records Act of 1978.

After the location for the project was announced, many new businesses began to develop in the surrounding area. Numerous hotels, restaurants, housing complexes, offices, retail stores were established. The revived River Market district, a dining and retail area near the library, was created as a result of its location. In addition, over $1 billion of new real estate has been invested in downtown Little Rock. The world headquarters of Heifer International is located just beyond the library.

The center has spurred an estimated $2 billion in new projects in the surrounding parts of Little Rock. Since its opening, the library has had over 1.64 million visitors. The museum had 302,583 visitors in 2009 and 273,108 visitors in 2008. There were approximately 500,000 visitors during its first year (November 2004 – 2005).

Mobility Assistance can be secured through a private agency. Any Agreement or contract made for the mobility agency will be the sole responsibility of the person attending the Conclave and making the agreement with the private company. All arrangements and schedules for delivery and pick-up of the equipment should be an agreement between the user and mobility agency. The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc. has provided mobility agencies information to the member solely as a reference but take no part in their actions, policies and service agreements. The hotel will not be responsible for the security of the mobility agency equipment unless otherwise given a written statement of responsibility.
